Henry Ford Jackson Hospital (HFJH) AI Glick Scholarship FAQs

Q What does the HFJH AI Glick Scholarship cover?

- A The scholarship covers the recipient's last dollar tuition and tuition related fees each semester. The scholarship also provides recipients a $500 bookstore credit each semester they are in attendance, to be used toward required books and course materials at their college or universities bookstore.

Q What is a last dollar scholarship?

- A Last dollar refers to the manner in which the scholarship is applied to the recipient's college or university account. If the student has any other available scholarships or grants, these must be applied to their account first. The HFJH AI Glick Scholarship will then cover remaining tuition and tuition related fees. This is reassessed each semester and all tuition payments are paid directly to the recipient's college or university after they have invoiced HFJH.

Q Does the scholarship cover room and board, meal plans, or other non-tuition related fees?

- A No, the scholarship covers only last dollar tuition and tuition related fees.

Q If awarded the HFJH AI Glick Scholarship, what is the requirement or commitment of the scholarship recipient?

- A Scholarship recipients are required to sign the HFJH AI Glick Scholarship Agreement. Within this agreement, the recipient agrees to maintain a minimum 2.5 GPA., provide HFJH with a copy of their unofficial transcript each semester, complete their certificate or degree within an appropriate timeframe depending on program requirements, and commit to two (2) years of employment with Henry Ford Jackson Hospital post certificate or program completion.
